Hi, There!

The Jester Staff of '52
Invited me to lead you through
The doors of school and school routine,
From initiation to our Class Day scene.

But before we begin, let us stop and look
At two cherished pages of the book:
Dedication to our Bill—truly just—
And a memoriam to Leon, whom God took from us.

Then, we'll look at the faculty; their job
was well done.
Then classes and clubs—we do have fun!
On to activities—our dances and plays,
Then last, but not least, on athletics we'll gaze.

So grab your hat and let's begin,
'Cause here we go for our first peek in.
If I bring joy to each lady and gent,
Then I will consider my time well spent.

. . . JOLLY JESTER

We Pay TRIBUTE To

Leon Gene Henderson

November 24, 1951, was a day of sadness for all of Leon Gene Henderson's family, friends, and classmates, for early that morning Leon met with a fatal accident.

Just a few days before, Leon had been named one of the Little Six Football All-Stars; and almost any player on the team will state that Leon really played to be in the game, not for individual glory. He was known as one of the finest linesmen in the history of the conference.

Leon Gene Henderson will long be remembered as a friend to all, and those of us who knew him will never forget him. His memory lingers on forever.

Just yonder on a star-kissed shore
He carries on in nobler way;
Though we can see his face no more,
Thanks for his friendship for a day.
If on his tomb we could endite
The epitaph we have in mind,
One phrase is all that we could write,
The truest words that we could find:
He was our friend . . .

Peace And Quiet

Let's look at the halls all shiny and clean,

So proud of themselves, they seem to gleam;

The lockers, the plaques, the trophies, and such,

And all of the things that mean so much.

Peace And Quiet?

Scurrying here and hurrying there,

Kids seem to be coming from everywhere.

The bell has just rung, and each lad and lass

Has just three minutes to make it to class.

TO

Coach Bill Heerde

As we close the pages of our high school life, we leave to you, Coach Heerde, the memories of the last four years which we have shared together.

We here at Knoxville High School have come to recognize the helpfulness, cooperative spirit, and friendliness which you have displayed to us. Through your efforts we have had two Little Six Football Championships as well as several successful basketball seasons, and it was you who gave us our first baseball team.

We hope that you will cherish these memories with us always, and that you have enjoyed these years as much as we have.

INTRODUCING . . .

Our Faculty

The faculty is our helping hand;
They do their job the best they can.
They guide us through our high school years;
To them we owe a round of cheers.

INTRODUCING . . . .

Our Classes

Freshies, bewildered, are new and green;
Sophomores strive to get in the scene;
Juniors and Seniors scurry around
To proms and plays, then don cap and gown.

Senior History

We, the seniors, have donned our caps and gowns and are now walking up the aisle to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," marking the end of our never-to-be-forgotten days at K.H.S. As we walk, we think back over our four years here and all the things that have made them eventful.

The tradition of the "Green Freshies" was upheld by our class, as most of us, except former Junior High students, had quite an adjustment to make. We were ably assisted by Don Pont, president; Pat Simkins, vice-president; and Rolly Eklund, secretary-treasurer. Class advisers were Mr. Stamps and Miss Shippy.

After the endurance of the buttoning to seniors and all that goes with a proper initiation, we started to take part in school activities, first of which was the annual Homecoming. Our candidates for king and queen were Pat Johnson and Bill Eiker. Pat, who was attended by Verna Terpening, came in as second maid of honor. We copped first prize in the individual class skits with our presentation of "A Day in the Court of Emperor Dingho."

Helping to inspire more pep in the freshman boys who took part in sports were Pat Simkins, Jo Anne White, Mary Lou Cross, and Diana Klinck, who were the pony cheerleaders from our class.

We entered our sophomore year minus the green looks and filled with the eagerness of putting another successful year behind us. As chief leader we chose Mickey Lacy, with Richard Henderson as vice-president, and Rosemary Lashbrook, secretary-treasurer. Miss Isaacson and Mr. Heerde helped us through this eventful year.

Joan Carlson, escorted by Richard Henderson and attended by Jean LaFollette, was our selection for queen candidate, and she was second maid of honor to the royal couple.

Many of the boys in our class were proving to be good athletes both on pony and varsity teams, and they won many letters. That year Pat Johnson and Jo Anne White were selected as cheerleaders on the varsity squad, and Pat Simkins and Diana Roseberry were on the pony.

Then we entered our junior year. Richard Henderson led us through this year with the help of Mickey Lacy, vice-president; Jean LaFollette, secretary; and Beverly Bruce, treasurer. Mrs. Yemm and Mr. Farr were the class advisers who offered advice and guidance.

First came the excitement of selecting and ordering our class rings, then of having class pictures taken for the yearbook.

Attending the royal couple at Homecoming as first maid of honor was Colleen Howerter, escorted by Rick Johnson and attended by Pat Johnson.

On the evening of December 7 we successfully presented "Brother Goose" and, in spite of the bad weather, had a full house. Miss Hasemeyer directed this well-accepted comedy.

In all sports our boys came through with flying colors. Jo Anne White and Pat Johnson again were varsity cheerleaders with Diana Klinck as our representative on the pony squad.

We drew the year to a close by presenting the Junior-Senior Prom at the Soangetaha Country Club. Everyone enjoyed an evening of dining and dancing in the atmosphere of gay, old Mexico.

And then, it finally came, that long-awaited day when we entered the halls of K.H.S. as "almighty seniors." As leader for our most important year we chose Don Pont, with Richard Henderson as vice-president and Beverly Bruce, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Huston, Mr. Miller, and Mr. Litchfield proved to be helpful advisers, which we needed in our last year. We were honored to have Pat Johnson as Student Council president and also recipient of the D.A.R. award.

On initiation day, the day awaited by all seniors, we forced the "green freshies" to button to us and carry our books to class. At 6:30 that evening we all met on the football field where the event was drawn to a close by a wiener roast.

We chose "In the Sunny South" as our colorful Homecoming theme and set out to make the gym as pretty as possible. Finally, after days of hard work, the big evening arrived. The program consisted of a variety of acts including musical, dramatic, and comical numbers. Highlighting the 1951 Homecoming program was the impressive coronation of our Queen Mary Jo Lindahl by Coach Bill Heerde. Mary Jo was escorted by John Woolsey and attended by Lorraine Cox.

The last semester of our senior year was full of many activities. In March Miss Hasemeyer again called tryouts for a play, this time "Meet Me In St. Louis," which was successfully given on the evening of April 25. Our annual "Skip Day" is a memory to be kept with us always. The Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Galesburg Club on May 16 and was one of the outstanding social events of the year.

We won high honors in all sports, especially in football, where we won the Little Six Championship with the help of 13 senior lettermen. Cheerleaders from our class were Jo Anne White and Pat Johnson.

Baccalaureate services were held May 25, and we took part in the Class Day activities a little sadly, finally realizing that our time at K.H.S. was drawing to a close. Then we received our Jesters, which we will cherish always as a reminder of those days.

And now it is May 29, the night of commencement, and we are walking across the stage to receive our diplomas. With a shake of the hand, Jolly Jester bids us good-bye, and, with diploma in hand, we bid farewell to four memorable years at K.H.S.

Juniors

Advisers, W. Farr, B. Yemm; President, D. Uhlmann; Vice-President, R. Rambo; Secretary-Treasurer, B. Kennelly.

Last September the class of 1953 entered the halls of KHS with confidence. They were old veterans at this sort of thing—not quite upperclassmen yet, but certainly not underclassmen, either.

Dick Uhlmann was chosen as commander for the year, to be assisted by Ray Rambo as vice-president and Betty Kennelly as secretary-treasurer. Representing the juniors on the Student Council were Louise Shreves and Jim Ramp. Carol Ann Ferris was elected by the student body to be vice-president of the Student Council. She will automatically become president of that organization next year. Harold Howarter and Joann Edwards were selected as junior editors of the newspaper and yearbook, respectively. Mrs. Betty Yemm and Mr. William Farr provided the faculty's guiding hand.

In October Mary Woolsey was chosen as the class's candidate for the Homecoming crown. Mary, who was the second maid of honor, was escorted by Jim Ramp, with Louise Shreves as her attendant.

The juniors were well represented in each of the four main sports this year. At least ten varsity letters were earned by junior athletes. From the quality of their play this year, the majority of these boys can be expected to turn in outstanding performances as seniors. Two of the cheerleaders, Betty Martin and Carol Ann Ferris, were also from the junior class.

To raise money for various activities in which the class was interested, they had charge of several football and basketball concessions. In December the class play, "Our Miss Brooks," was produced under the direction of Miss Wilma Hasemeyer. It proved to be a success from the standpoint of finance as well as entertainment. Then May 16 was the night of the long-to-be-remembered junior-senior prom, which was held at the Galesburg Club. Class Day came soon after the prom and brought to a close their third successful year at KHS.

Sophomores

President, T. Pierson; Adviser, W. Hasemeyer; Vice-President, J. Foss; Adviser, W. Heerde. Secretary-Treasurer, M. J. Green, missing from picture.

The members of the sophomore class, having lost that "green freshie" look, have now successfully carried out the many responsibilities, interests, fun and frolic, and "occasional" studies of their second year at KHS.

Tom Pierson has led the class through another successful year, along with the help of the vice-president, Joan Foss, the secretary-treasurer, Mary Jane Green, and of course the other 31 boys and 32 girls of the class. Joan Fahlund and Walter Bradbury were Student Council representatives.

A blond, blue-eyed lass, Jean Ann Flynn, was their candidate for queen of Homecoming this year, and she was chosen first maid of honor. Her escort was Terry Houston, and her attendant, Joan Foss.

The sophomores copped first prize in the Homecoming show with a skit entitled "Are the In-laws In or Out?"

Four very active and capable cheerleaders came from this class. Susan Bybee was on the varsity squad, and Becky Anderson, Betty Elledge, and Florine Davis were junior varsity cheerleaders.

Eight of the sophomore boys represented the class on the basketball squad, and numerous other boys participated in other sports.

The class sponsors, who were always ready and willing to help, were Miss Wilma Hasemeyer and Mr. Bill Heerde.

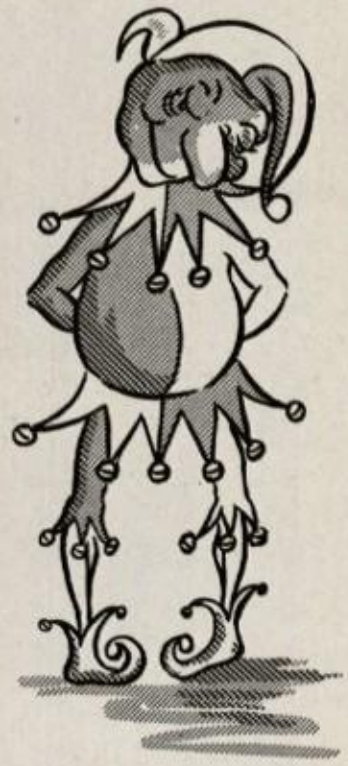
Freshmen



Advisers, W. Stamps, J. Robertson; Secretary-Treasurer, J. Gladfelter; President, J. Klinck; Vice-President, D. Hughes.

A welcoming hand was extended by the upperclassmen to the "green freshies" on September 4 when they were invited to join in the swing of the coming year's activities.

As the leaves started to rustle on a brisk October afternoon, the "freshies" and their huge blue and gold crepe paper bullet won first prize in the annual Homecoming parade. On that Friday of October 26 Sheryl McCue represented her class in the Homecoming coronation as third maid of honor. She was escorted by Jim Scalf and attended by Marlene Ring.

Richard Hughes, the vice-president, took over the presidency of the class when Joanne Klinck, the elected president, moved to Galesburg. Sarah Lacy was then elected as vice-president, and Jack Gladfelder assisted them as secretary-treasurer. The Student Council representatives were Kay Markham and Ralph Chism. Miss Jane Robertson and Mr. Wendell Stamps, class advisers, helped the freshmen through their first high school year.

Football, basketball, and track also called to this class's boys. Sarah Lacy, Carol Ann Tucker, and Carole Carlson were the freshman cheerleaders.

Their freshman year came to a successful close with a picnic at Lake Storey on Class Day.

Eighth Grade

Early last fall when the doors of KHS again opened, 58 eighth graders returned for another year of learning. At the first class meeting they chose Jim Tarochione as their president, Donald England as vice-president, Ruth Ann Gustafson as secretary, and James Carlson as treasurer. Sandra Westerfield and Sherrill Spurgeon were on Student Council.

At Christmas time the boys and girls drew names and exchanged gifts at a colorful party. They also decorated their section of windows along the north side of the high school building.

In order to make money, the eighth grade, along with the other classes, took its turn at the concessions stand at games. The class also sponsored a bake sale.

The boys were well represented on the basketball squad, as there were ten who went out for this sport. Some of the other boys participated in numerous other sports. Lynda Sweborg and Jo-Anne Hughbanks represented the girls of the class, as they were two of the very capable cheerleaders.

Along with their numerous parties, games, etc., the eighth graders also enjoyed a class trip.

The class sponsors were Miss Lois Piazzi and Mr. Wellesley Goodwin, who were always ready to assist.

These eighth graders wore the traditional green caps at the Class Day exercises and are now eagerly looking forward to becoming "green freshies."

Seventh Grade

When the nine o'clock bell rang one early September morn, into the hall of old KHS came 69 frightened but eager seventh graders. Everything seemed mysterious and strange to these new members of the Junior High, but they soon found that the atmosphere was warm and friendly, welcoming them into this educational family.

First on their program was the election of class officers. Larry Carlson won the presidency with Dean Rader as his helper and Joyce James, the secretary-treasurer. On the Student Council were Ardathe Stone and Ray Godsil. Miss Mabel Woolsey and Mrs. Joan Hotchkiss helped to guide them through their first year.

To build up their treasury, they organized the first student supply store at KHS. The little "beavers" could be found daily rushing around to serve anyone who wanted pencils, notebook paper, erasers, or any other school supplies.

The running that they did from house to house selling magazines showed just how eager these boys and girls were to make their magazine drive a success. Because the boys sold the fewest subscriptions, they had to give a supper for the girls.

They eagerly entered into and helped in all the school activities, both in athletics and class work, thus bringing to a close a very successful year. Ardathe Stone, Marcia Randall, and Joyce James served as cheerleaders.

Student Council

"The meeting will come to order." This is what the members of the Student Council heard as President Pat Johnson began each weekly meeting of the student governing body this year.

The Council consisted of 21 members, as each class is represented by its class president and a boy and girl whom the class elects to be its official representatives.

Making arrangements for the annual Homecoming parade was the first job of the Council this year. A money-making project was the selling of K.H.S. pins; and the group also sponsored several after-game dances.

One of the most important projects of the Council was the adoption of a new system for the election of Homecoming queens. A plan was set up whereby three candidates for queen will be taken from the senior class only, and the other three classes will choose the attendants. Each person selling a dollar's worth of tickets will have one vote, which will make it a popularity contest.

Another important change made by the group concerned the cheerleaders, who will henceforth be chosen in the spring instead of in the fall.

Standing: S. Westerfield, R. Godsil, L. Shreves, J. Fahlund, W. Bradbury, C. Howerter, M. Lacy, D. Thomann, J. Ramp, R. Chism, K. Markham, S. Spurgeon, A. Stone.
Seated: D. Uhlmann, D. Hughes, J. Tarochione, C. Ferris, P. Johnson, S. Bybee, L. Carlson, T. Pierson, D. Pont.

Latin Club

The Latin Club has once again completed a very successful year. The club consisted of 22 members, and they chose as leaders: Walter Bradbury, president; Charles Philblad, vice-president; and Harold Howarter, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Huston directed the group and helped them promote such events as the Mothers' Tea held at Christmas time. This consisted of a program in which five freshman boys put on a Latin play. Carole Carlson presented a piano solo, and, to keep in step with the season, Christmas carols were sung in Latin.

The Latin Banquet was the second big event for the year. At this affair sheets were worn as robes, and the floor was used to sit on.

Throughout the year meetings were held on the second Monday of each month. Members were invited to bring their lunches; and after the business meeting, spelling or story contests provided entertainment.

Money was raised for the various activities by a bake sale held at a PTA meeting and by selling candy in the hall.

Pep Club

As autumn leaves began to fall and eager anticipation for the coming school year of games, parties, fun, and "work" was mounting, 65 enthusiastic girls took their oath of membership in the Pep Club at a potluck supper in the study hall. It was not long before the girls started the ball rolling to fulfill their task of promoting good sportsmanship and school spirit to spur the teams on to victory. Mrs. Joan Hotchkiss succeeded Mrs. Betty Yemm as adviser to the club this year.

Upper left: President, C. Martin; Adviser, J. Hotchkiss; Secretary-Treasurer, J. A. Flynn; Vice-President, M. Woolsey.

November 16, 1951, is a date long to be remembered by the Pep Club members and athletic boys. This was the evening of the annual Pep Club Banquet for all Pep Club members and all boys participating in either football, basketball, baseball, or track. The presentation of the Register-Mail's Little Six Championship trophy by James Swickard, sports editor of the Galesburg Daily Register-Mail, to Football Captain Mick Lacy and to Coach Heerde highlighted the 1951 Banquet.

In early December a campaign was launched to sell Christmas corsages as a means of raising additional money to carry on the club's various activities for the year.

In April the girls got a chance to ask the boys for a date. The occasion was the Pep Club formal, when the club members invited boys to escort them to the dance. This year the event was held at the Lake Bracken clubhouse, and a Galesburg orchestra provided the music. In this spacious building overlooking the lake, the girls and their dates enjoyed punch and dancing until 11:00 o'clock.

The club's activities came to an end with a farewell to the senior members of the club.

Science Club

If you had happened to walk in on a Science Club meeting any Thursday evening, you would have seen only boys. A new rule was drawn up this year which stated that only those who belonged to not more than one other club could join Science Club, and so this seemed to eliminate the girls.

The purpose of the Science Club is to promote an interest in science, whether it be from the standpoint of using science in a vocation or just using the discoveries and products of science.

This year a new plan was used for financing the various field trips. Each member paid 25 cents for each bi-monthly meeting, even if he did not attend it. Of course, other means of raising money were also devised throughout the year.

Chicago, with its many places of educational interest, was the first place to be visited. Other field trips to nearby points of scientific interest were also taken during the winter and spring.

The members enjoyed many interesting talks at their bi-monthly meetings.

Some of the club's many projects were probably observed throughout the school year, such as the mathematical toys called "doodlers' delights" and the "money raising" experiment with army surplus balloons.

This year, for the first time, the Science Club participated in the District Fair of the Illinois Academy of Science which was held in Macomb.

The fourth annual Science Fair took place here in April, and students will long remember the many interesting exhibits and experiments displayed throughout the building.

Library Club

The Library Club celebrated its second anniversary this year under the leadership of Alice Hutchinson, the president. Joann Edwards was vice-president, and Joan Baker was secretary-treasurer.

When the month of November rolled around, while everyone's thoughts were centered on "Tom Turkey," the Library Club spent every spare minute planning an assembly.

Then, before "Old Man Winter" made his appearance, the club enjoyed a chili supper.

Besides their many recreational activities, the Library Club members spent many hours mending books, typing, and doing other odd jobs for the library and librarian, Miss Helen Lindrothe.

SeCo Club

One sunny afternoon back in September, 20 SeCo Club members journeyed to the home of Janet Roselle for their first meeting of the 1951-1952 school year. Here the annual initiation ceremonies, followed by a tasty weiner roast, took place.

The main events of the year were the Mother-Daughter Banquet held in the latter part of December and the Silver Tea and bazaar held in the spring.

The year ended successfully with a dinner prepared and served by the SeCo Club girls in honor of the seniors.

K-GAC

Standing: S. Lacy, Vice-President; V. Howerter, Secretary; Adviser, J. Robertson; K. Moore, Treasurer; J. Dredge, Recorder. Seated: P. Simkins, President.

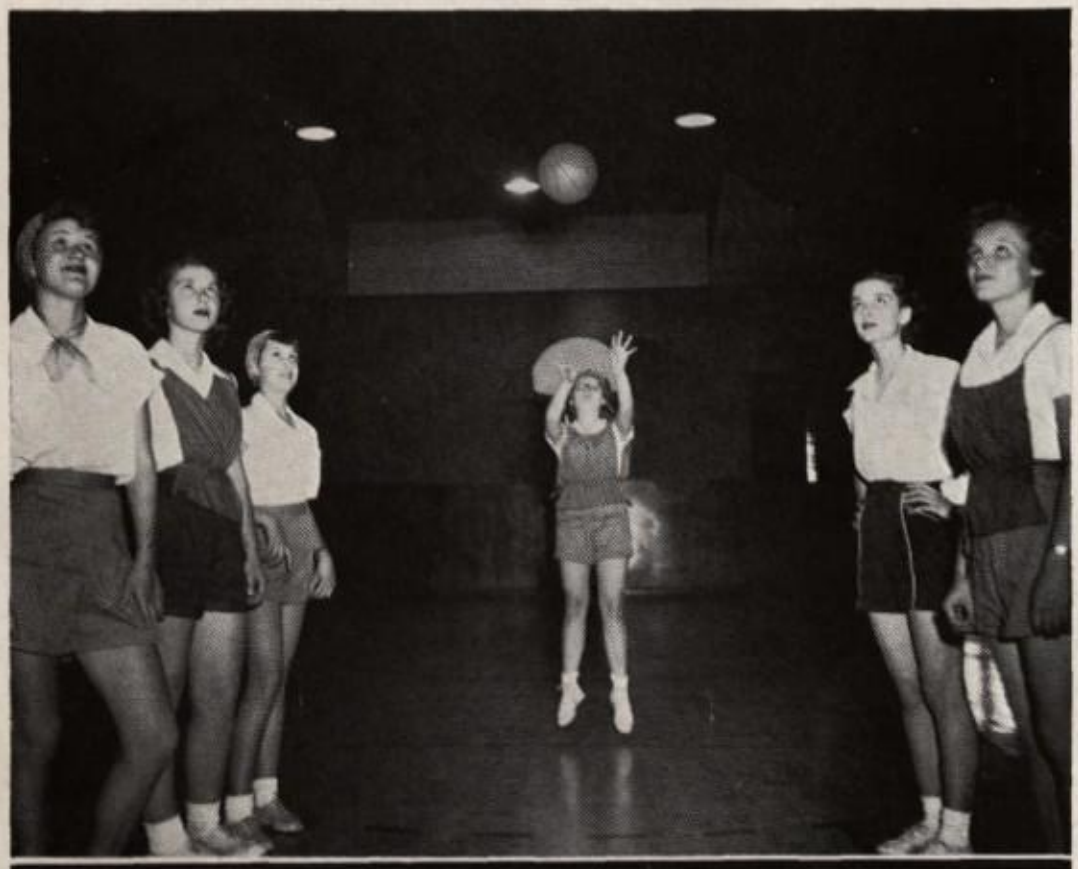
J. Steck, M. J. Lindahl, C. Howerter, M. Woolsey, E. Sitton, B. Kennelly, P. Johnson.



K-GAC Club got started with a bang last fall with a membership of about 60 girls and their capable leader, Miss Jane Robertson.

Much competitive spirit was aroused during the first few weeks when our feminine athletes formed bowling teams and displayed much enthusiasm as they undertook each game.

While the world was taking on autumn hues, these nature girls enjoyed hikes and picnics in the wilds of this vicinity.

One day late in November, a strange thing happened. Part of the K-GAC squad turned into boys—for a special reason, of course. As the event was to be a "hard times" party and box supper, girls posing as boys were necessary to make the evening complete. Someone had to buy the boxes!

When wintry winds began to blow around our haven, K-GAC and Pep Club joined together for a Christmas gathering. And while the world was still a "winter wonderland," the girls enjoyed swimming at the "Y" and entered into basketball tournaments. The athletes showed good competitive spirit, and much sportsmanship was aroused.

Then as the earth took on a fresh, new look, the girls extended invitations to their mothers to attend a Mother-Daughter banquet.

During the year, along with fun, each member had goals to reach which are stated in the constitution. They are to promote good sportsmanship and interest in athletics, both as a spectator and as a participant, and to encourage good health habits. So, there is a serious side to this club, too, and it is a good example for all to follow.

Lower right: N. England, B. Kenelly, H. Howarter, J. Goff, C. A. Ferris, J. England, S. Lacy, M. Haynes.

The curtain parted at 7:30 on September 10 for the second-year billing of the Knoxville High School Dramatics Club.

The study hall proved to be an ideal place for tryouts, and there the group chose their leading man, Dick Uhlmann. R. D. Swanson served as understudy; and Diana Roseberry, as leading lady, kept track of the box office receipts. Alice Hutchison was the publicity agent, and Miss Wilma Hasemeyer acted as the capable director. These people were supported by a cast of 52 other members.

Act I brought forth a masquerade initiation party for new cast members. Everyone attended dressed as a person from the past, and the evening featured a ham dinner and a program.

Highlight of Act II was October 6 when 30 cast members traveled to Chicago to see "South Pacific." They also visited the Chicago Airport, Marshall Field's, and many other points of interest. The trip was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

A showboat theme was used in Act III at the Jester Staff Carnival in April. The stage was gaily decorated, and many showboat numbers were presented.

Throughout the season several one-act plays were given as additional entertainment for the audience. At their meetings the cast members gave pantomimes, skits, and different types of speeches.

A farewell picnic was held in the spring in honor of the graduating seniors, and with this the curtain was drawn to a close on another year of K.H.S. dramatic productions.

Future Farmers

Where Indians once hunted wildlife in the woodlands and over the countryside of Knox County and vicinity, there can now be seen the advanced work of young, energetic Future Farmers of America from Knoxville High. Under the advisership of Mr. James Litchfield, these future tillers of the soil produced a memorable crop of achievements, reaping rewards in abundance.

Their line of activities began before school opened. In June the chapter attended the State F.F.A. Convention in Champaign, and when fair time came, the boys displayed their fattened prize animals at the Knox County Fair and also the State Fair at Springfield. They showed rare ability as farmers, which accounted for their many ribbons.

September arrived, and the Wise Owl of Wisdom and Knowledge led the F.F.A. boys back to school. Shortly after their arrival, Rolly Eklund was chosen as president to guide the chapter. Activities really began booming then. An initiation was held at which all the Greenhands were welcomed into this national organization for boys.

For the second time, the F.F.A. brought to K.H.S. the magician, V-Roy, and his tricks. Following in V-Roy's tracks came Homecoming, and the chapter was certainly ready, for they proudly won first prize in the club division of the parade with their unusual float.

Of America

Winter came soon afterwards, but the boys kept warm with activities. In February they held a speech contest, and in April the boys had their second Parent and Son Banquet.

As the doors close for the school year of 1951-52, the Future Farmers of America can glance back and be proud of their achievements over the past twelve months.

The Knoxville High School chapter of the Junior Red Cross is composed of boys and girls in both junior and senior high.

The chapter made its first appearance in the Homecoming parade with a stretcher bearing the slogan "You Maul 'Em—We'll Haul 'Em." Although the float merited no prize, it shared picture honors in the Register-Mail with the F.F.A. "We'll Maul 'Em" float.

This Christmas the group took a Christmas program to the county home. Delores Luxmore's accordion selections, Frank Hilligoss' songs, Pamela Beecher's piano solo, and the Nonette's Christmas carols were enjoyed by all the patients, along with the homemade candy which was distributed to them.

Jo Anne White and Janet Roselle attended council meetings with representatives from various schools in Knox County at least once a month in Galesburg at the County Chapter office.

Last summer Janet Roselle, Jo Anne White, Jim Swanson, and Walter Bradbury spent a week of learning and fun at Camp Seymore, Decatur. Plans are being made for other students to attend this summer.

The Knoxville Junior High Band, under the direction of Mr. Lloyd Swanson, consisted of 40 members during the 1951-52 school year. The Junior Band presented their annual Junior-Elementary Concert on May 23, 1952, for its one appearance for the year.

It is planned for the Junior High Band to become more active in future years.

Music Council

Something new was organized in the music department this year. A group of students formed a Music Council and met once a week after school to discuss problems which came up in the classroom of the Legion Hall.

The members were representatives from the music classes and the officers of the band, with Don Pont as chairman.

Majorettes

Leading the band in each marching performance this year was Carol Ann Ferris, drum majorette. Marilyn Essex, Joan Hughbanks, Pat Miller, and Sharon James were the junior majorettes. These girls, along with the band, sported new gold and white uniforms.

KHS Band

The K.H.S. Band opened the year appearing in brand new navy blue uniforms, which they displayed on the march at the half of every home football game.

Many appearances were made by the band, as they led the Homecoming parade, marched in the Macomb Western College Homecoming parade, appeared in the Galesburg Christmas parade, and participated in the Knox County Music Festival with several other bands in March.

Mr. Swanson and the band members ended the season with the successful presentation of the third annual spring concert.

Girls' Chorus

Melodies from "Showboat" could be heard by anyone passing the music hall last fall, because the Girls' Chorus was busily rehearsing for its first appearance of the season, the 1951 Homecoming. The girls joined the Boys' Chorus in presenting these numbers.

Thanksgiving brought forth the second appearance of the girls when they joined the Boys' Chorus to sing various Thanksgiving and patriotic numbers at the annual high school Thanksgiving program.

The Knox County Music Festival which is held annually at Abingdon is always a big event during the year for the chorus. This year it was held in March, and the schools met previous to the night of the festival for rehearsal. The girls sang four numbers which included "My Hero," "Little David, Play on Your Harp," "All in the April Evening," and "The Lord's Prayer." Then, along with the boys, making up a mixed chorus, they sang three selections: "Happy Days Are Here Again," "List to the Lark," and "This Is My Country."

The Girls' Chorus sang for several organizations during the year, too, including the P.T.A. and the Women's Club.

The Spring Concert brought to a close the activities of the music department for the year, and the Girls' Chorus took part in this along with the other K.H.S. musical groups.

Boys' Chorus

Five first tenors, five second tenors, seven basses, and ten baritones made up the Boys' Chorus this year, which was under the direction of Mr. Lloyd Swanson.

The Boys' Chorus, along with the Girls' Chorus, made up the mixed choral group which sang the well-known songs from "Showboat" at Homecoming in November. Everyone will long remember "Make Believe," "Can't Help Lovin' That Man of Mine," and "You Are Love," all of which appropriately fit in with the Southern theme of the occasion.

"On Moonlight Bay" and "Song of the Road" were sung by the K.H.S. Boys' Chorus along with other boys' choruses at the Knox County Music Festival. They also joined the girls' choruses in singing three other numbers.

An a cappella choir was started this year and was made up of some of the boys and girls who met once a week during the seventh period.

The first tenors were Bill Olin, Joe Burgess, Larry Gray, John Miller, and Richard Wagher. Frank Hilligoss, John Liston, Don Pont, Ted Pyles, and Dick Uhlmann made up the second tenors. The bass section was made up of Richard Henderson, Bob Downard, Harold Howarter, Rick Johnson, Mick Lacy, Leroy Mitchell, Bob Woods, and Terry Wooldridge; and the ten baritones were R. D. Swanson, Cecil Calhoun, Ralph Chism, Charles Connour, Jack Gladfelter, Terry Houston, Don McLaren, Jim Scalf, Tom Walker, and Eddie Young.

First Row: K. Markham, S. Bybee, S. Lacy, J. Vail, C. Bushong, E. Miller, G. Rosine, D. Tuthill, M. Haynes, D. Luxmore, B. Lundgren, C. Carlson, J. LaFollette. Second Row: C. Ferris, N. England, B. KHS Choir

Every Wednesday during the seventh period the boys and girls who made up the Knoxville choir could be seen, rain or shine, rushing to the music hall to "make with the music."

One of the most popular projects of the choir was working out the "Showboat Medley," which they sang to perfection at Homecoming.

Among the many performances successfully carried out by the choir were singing in assembly programs, P.T.A. meetings, Homecoming, and the Knox County Music Festival which was held in Abingdon on March 26.

The choir brought their season to a triumphant end with their presentation of the beautiful "Flower Festival," which was held early in the spring.

First Row: P. Morrell, M. Woolsey, C. Howerter, B. Kennelly. Second Row: C. A. Ferris, P. Johnson, C. Bushong, J. Vail, S. Bybee.

Nonette

A new group added to the musical department this year was the Nonette, an outgrowth of the former sextette. The girls sang in beautiful three-part harmony for many occasions.

Mr. Lloyd Swanson, their director, led the girls through a successful year with performances at such events as Homecoming, P.T.A. meetings, assemblies, the Stunt Show, Kiwanis Club meetings, and at various churches.

Initiation

September 18 brought a day of fun and excitement to the halls of K.H.S., especially for the seniors. This was the day of the "dreaded" freshman initiation.

The seniors arrived bright and early, but the freshmen all stayed away from the scene until the last minute. Wonder why!

In the halls throughout the day there was much confusion. Freshmen everywhere were "praising" the "mighty seniors," and of course the initiates were all kept pretty busy carrying the seniors' books.

The little freshman "creatures" looked mighty peculiar, since the boys were dressed as girls and the girls as boys. For some strange reason the girls didn't comb their hair before coming to school, and the boys were "wearing" tiny pincurls.

At noon the sidewalks were swept and scrubbed, cars were washed, and "worms" (really macaroni) were fed to the hungry "green freshies."

That evening a weiner roast was held for the faculty, seniors, and freshmen to climax the day. After much "buttoning," the freshmen left, and another K.H.S. initiation came to a close.

Football Snaps

A familiar sight this year was Mr. Ames selling tickets to our many football games. The concession stand also shared the spotlight as a familiar sight, with many an unsuspecting student working in the bitter cold. A fine squad of peppy cheerleaders helped boost our team to victory; and we boasted not only of the leading scorer of the state, Bill Roe, but of a well-coached ball club led by Captain Mick Lacy. In November the annual Pep Club banquet was held in honor of the K.H.S. athletes, and the climax of the banquet was the awarding of the Little Six Championship Trophy.

Homecoming

The highlight of K.H.S.'s 1951 Homecoming was the impressive coronation of the queen and her court. To the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," played by Joan Carlson, the queen and her court made their entrance. Jo Anne White and Jean LaFollette, marshalls, and Mr. and Mrs. William Heerde led the procession. Vada Ann Peterson and Herbie Whitsit, crown bearers, came next.

Freshman candidate Sheryl McCue, escorted by Jim Scalf and attended by Marlene Ring, was third maid of honor; Junior Mary Woolsey, escorted by Jim Ramp, with Louise Shreves as her attendant, was second maid of honor. The first maid of honor was Jean Ann Flynn, sophomore candidate, escorted by Terry Houston. Joan Foss was her attendant.

Pretty Mary Jo Lindahl, senior, escorted by John Woolsey and attended by Lorraine Cox, approached the throne in a pale blue formal. She was crowned Queen of the 1951 Homecoming by Mr. Heerde. With this impressive ceremony, the program came to a close.

Blue Bulletin Staff

"Where's my story?" "I gave it to you." "Who wants to write a headline?" "Has this been typed yet?" "I've got some changes to make on my news story." "Did someone take a feature story from my folder?"

These are only some of the numerous questions that Blue Bulletin staff members asked each day as they busily went about their journalistic tasks. Perhaps from these frantic questions it can be seen that it didn't take just the sponsor, Mrs. Richards, the printer, Jim Creighton, or the editor, Don Pont, to get out the weekly Blue Bulletin which was sold every Tuesday at 12:40. It took everyone involved, an entire staff of 19 people, to complete each and every issue.

Not only was there work to be done during eighth period class, but in the mornings, during noon hours, during free periods, and after school students could be seen chasing down facts, typing, and sending copy to the printer. Although it was good, hard work, it was also lots of fun.

This same staff also published the yearbook.

Junior Play

At 8 p. m. on December 14, the curtain went up on the junior class play, "Our Miss Brooks," a hilarious three-act comedy adapted from the radio serial by Perry Mann.

The plot concerned the "trials and tribulations" of Miss Brooks, a typical young English teacher, when she was forced to direct the school play. Like all play directors, she had trouble finding places and time to practice. She and the coach both needed the gym for practicing, and feuds developed over the importance of a play in comparison to athletics.

Miss Brooks judged the theme contest and gave the award, plus the leading role in the play, to supposedly the wrong person. Using star athletes in the play was a mistake, too. Through no fault of her own, this poor harrassed teacher also got into trouble with the librarian, the music teacher, the principal, and the school board president.

Through it all, however, she managed to retain her sanity and come up with a wonderful play that won the approval of all.

Miss Wilma Hassemeyer was the director, and Louise Shreves served as her assistant.

"Come to the Fair," was the cry of the seniors as they prepared for their production of "Meet Me in St. Louis." This was presented on April 25 and 26, the first time a play has been given more than one night at K.H.S.

The play was different this year in that it was given in a porch and garden scene instead of the conventional living room setting. "Meet Me in St. Louis" was presented as a musical, with singing and dancing included in the plot.

In the story, the Smith family, who live in St. Louis, are looking forward to the World's Fair. Mr. Smith (Rick Johnson) is transferred to New York by his office. Mrs. Smith (Bev Bruce) takes it well, but the four daughters, Rose, Esther, Tootie, and Agnes, played by Mary Jo Lindahl, Lorraine Cox, Claudette Martin, and Pat Simkins respectively, in open rebellion proceed to change the plans. Mr. Smith loses his job after Tootie bites his boss's leg, Rose throws a cat at him, and Agnes sings a solo, "I Was Drunk Last Night, Dear Mother." Lon, the son, played by John Woolsey, has trouble with girls; namely, Ida Boothby and Lucille Pentard, played by Colleen Howerter and Diana Roseberry.

The play ends happily with Mr. Smith getting his job back in St. Louis and the family enjoying the World's Fair.

Miss Wilma Hasemeyer directed the play, with Margie Smith as assistant director.

Junior-Senior Prom

May 16, 1952, was an ordinary spring evening. Ordinary for most people, yes; but if you were a junior or senior at K.H.S., it was a very special date. This was the night of the junior-senior prom, the prom the upperclassmen had long looked forward to!

For the seniors, the prom was a kind of farewell; a gay, festive fling to top off their last year and send them away full of wonderful memories. All through high school they had awaited this night, one of the highlights of their four-year educational career.

For the juniors, it was something new. For them it was a project to make plans for, something to work on, and finally an event at which to have a wonderful time.

At 6:30 the guests were assembled in the ballroom of the Galesburg Club. The ballroom was decorated like Central Park in the spring. As the guests entered, park benches, bird baths, and trees gave a realistic impression of the park. Place cards, programs, and table decorations also carried out the theme.

Following the after-dinner speakers was dancing to an orchestra which was enjoyed by all. By 12:30 the festivities were over, and souvenirs ready for scrapbooks were all that remained to tell the story of that wonderful night.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Now we ask you—what would a game be without cheerleaders? Pretty dull, don't you think?

Knoxville's games had no chance to be dull with the five petite, peppy cheerleaders who were on hand to lead the yells this year.

The yell squad consisted of Jo Anne White and Pat Johnson, seniors; Betty Martin and Carol Ann Ferris, juniors; and Susan Bybee, a sophomore.

Pat and Jo Anne graduate this year, leaving three years of varsity cheering experience behind them. This was Betty's second year as a varsity pep director, while Susan Bybee and Carol Ann Ferris were newcomers to the ranks of varsity.

Carrying out the school colors of navy blue and gold, the girls, with the help of their adviser, Mrs. Joan Hotchkiss, chose a navy blue blouse with three-quarter length sleeves complemented by a gold collar and lapels, and a navy blue skirt with gold inset pleats as their outfits. Navy blue tights completed the skinner satin suit.

Yea Team!

As the curtain rings down on another successful cheering season, we, the varsity and junior varsity cheerleading squads, would like to extend our thanks to you, the student body, for electing us and for cooperating with us in cheering our teams on to victory.

Junior Varsity

Three cute and peppy sophomore girls were chosen by the student body to cheer the junior varsity basketball squad on to many victories.

Betty Elledge, Becky Anderson, and Florine Davis worked diligently throughout the season making up new motions for their yells.

They made their appearance on the night of their first game in outfits which were planned by the girls along with the help of Mrs. Joan Hotchkiss, their adviser. Circular gold velveteen skirts lined with navy blue taffeta complemented by wool navy blue bat-winged sweaters made the costumes complete.

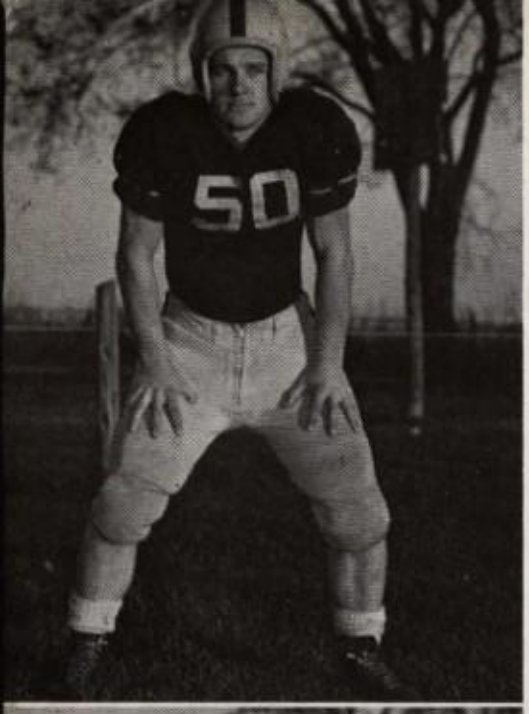
Little Six Champs

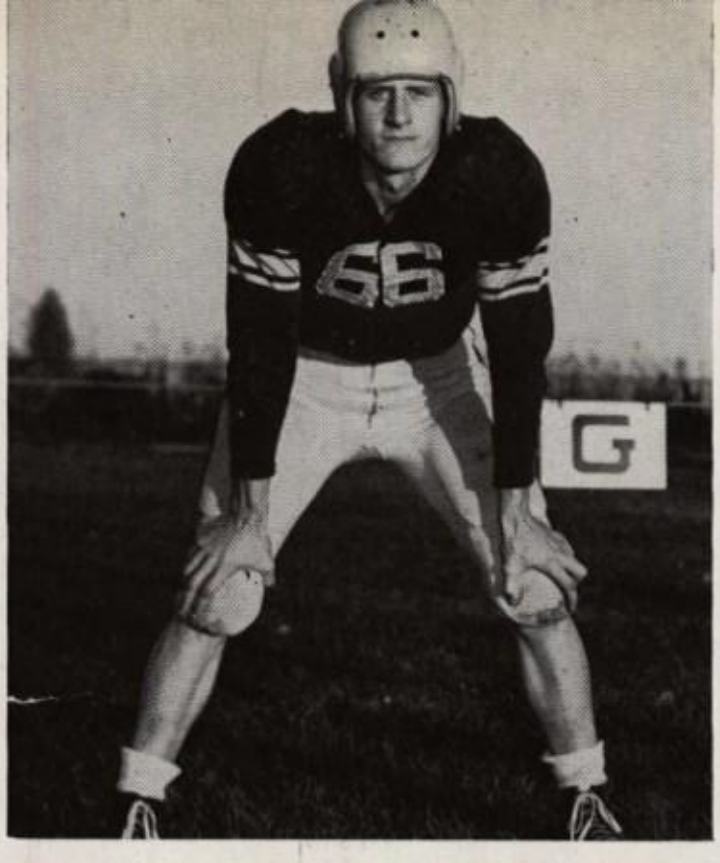
The Knoxville Blue Bullets ended up with a successful football season last fall by turning in an eight win-one loss record and going undefeated in Conference play to cop the Little Six Championship crown.

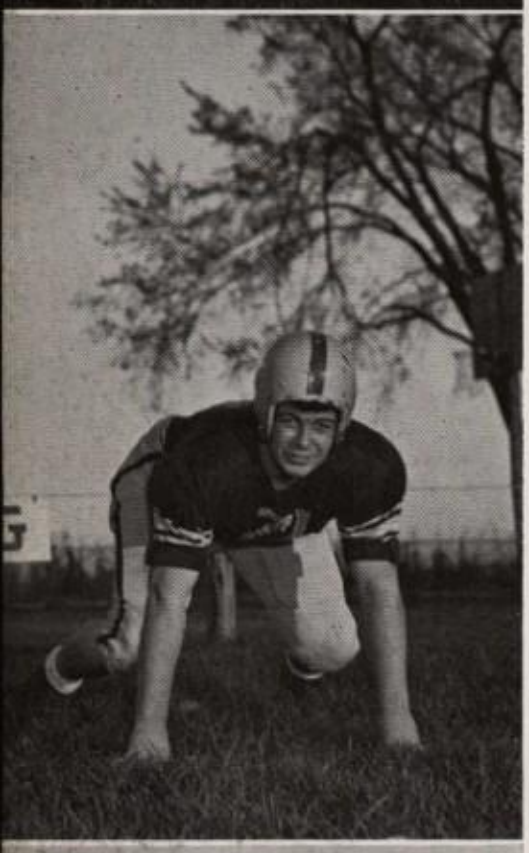
Knoxville got off to a fast start, which is to any team's advantage. The Bullets were almost always able to jump ahead in the first stanza of a game and to maintain their lead.

Knoxville downed Corpus Christi, Macomb Western, and Cuba and was upset only by Geneseo in out-of-conference play. The Bullets boasted a heavy line and a fast, deceptive backfield. Almost all of the starting eleven had at least three years' experience, which accounted for this record.

The Bullets downed Abingdon 25-6, Alexis 31-6, Aledo 61-12, Roseville 44-12, and ROVA 18-7 in conference games. Aside from winning the Little Six title, Knoxville won four places on the All-Star team and also boasted of the leading scorer for the year in downstate football. This year's line was one of the heaviest in the conference and weighed in at an average of 170 pounds. Next year's squad will be handicapped greatly through the loss of the twelve seniors who played on this top-notch team.







CAPTAIN MICK LACY—Mick played quarterback on the Bullet eleven and was elected as captain previous to the season. Mick's signal-calling and accurate passing eye were always a thorn in the opponent's foot. Mick was elected to the Little Six All-Star team.

BILL ROE—"Scooter," as he was known throughout the vicinity, played left half position and led the downstate scoring with 198 points. Bill was also voted on the Little Six All-Stars, plus being named on the Little All-State team. Bill graduates this year.

BILL EIKER—Bill, a senior, was a right half and a running mate of Roe's. Eiker could be counted on to pick up a first down in almost all of the crucial moments. Bill was a member of the All-Star second team.

LEON HENDERSON—Leon held down left tackle position in the Bullets' line. He was one of the heaviest and most aggressive linesmen in the Conference. Leon was the only K.H.S. junior voted on the All-Star team.

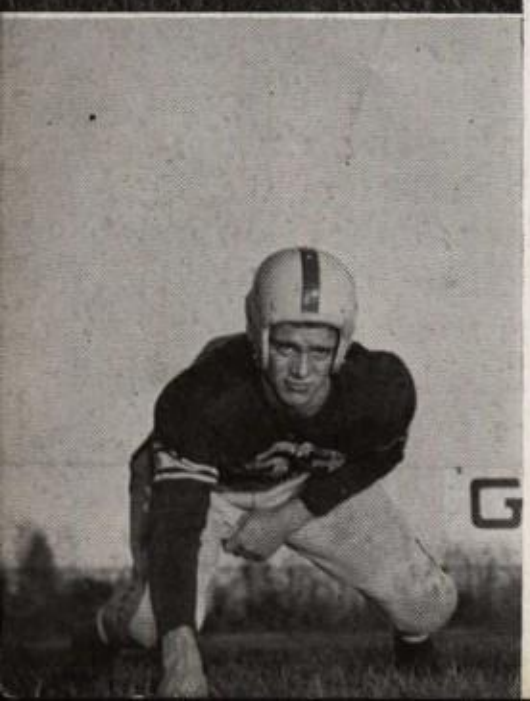
TOM WALKER—Tom, a senior, was one of the roughest linesmen at Knoxville. Tom played right tackle and was one of the many who got a full share of tackles.

RICK JOHNSON—Rick played in the left guard slot and could be counted on for putting up a rough display of defense. Rick, a Little Six All-Star, will be missed next season, since he graduates this year.

DAVE WESTERFIELD—Dave handled the defensive center job. The opponents found it almost impossible to get around Dave. Dave, another senior, will be gone from the games next year.

WENDELL CRAMER—Wendy, a senior, held down right end position. He was a good man to have in the line-up when the opponents tried an end run.

ROLLY EKLUND—"Hotrod," another graduate, handled the left end position again this year. He will be a hard man to replace next year, for his blocking, tackling, and pass-receiving were a great asset to the team.



DICK GAGG—Dick was the Bullets' offensive center. He could always be counted on to open a hole through the center of the line. He, too, graduates this year and will be hard to replace.

GERALD HILTON—Jerry, also a senior, played fullback on the squad. If a hole was made in the line, he would see to it that yardage was made.

FRANK HILLIGOSS—Frank, a junior, was reserve fullback and occasionally substituted in the line. Frank will probably be seen again during the 1952 football season.

LEROY MITCHELL—LeRoy was only a sophomore but proved to be a very valuable reserve. He will be an important cog in next year's gridiron machine.

JOHN LISTON—"Ears" will be one of the few varsity members returning next year. He alternated at right end with Cramer. His strongest point was pass-catching.

JAMIE BJORKMAN—Jamie, a junior, played reserve quarterback and showed great promise for next year's team. Jamie displayed fine strategy and an excellent passing eye whenever he was called upon to relieve Lacy.

MARVIN GUSTAFSON—Marv, although he saw limited action last season, was a good reserve linesman as well as a capable tackler and blocker. Marv, too, will be graduating.

FRED JOHNSON—Fred, a reserve halfback, was a reserve only because just four backs are allowed on the field at once. Fred was a player who will be lost through graduation.

First Regional Winners

A very successful basketball season was just what the Blue Bullets had for 1951-1952. This team captured the Regional crown for the first time in Knoxville's history. In doing this they defeated Avon 72-57, Galva 45-40, and Cambridge 49-42.

They were Little Six Co-Champs and got the first place trophy in the Elmwood Invitational Tournament. Abingdon nosed out the Blue Bullets 55-54 for the first place standing in the county. The season had many highlights as the Bullets scored 100 points twice, against Alexis and Abingdon.

The season started out to be a disappointment to the fans and all hometown rooters. It was very evident that this team could play a very much better brand of basketball than they were coming up with. One night they would drop an important game that they should have won with very little trouble, and the next night they would be a red hot ball club and couldn't be beat.

Then the County Tournament rolled around, and after having Abingdon beat them by one point, they woke up and finished the season with flying colors. They really had a good team and were full of the ego that makes true athletes.

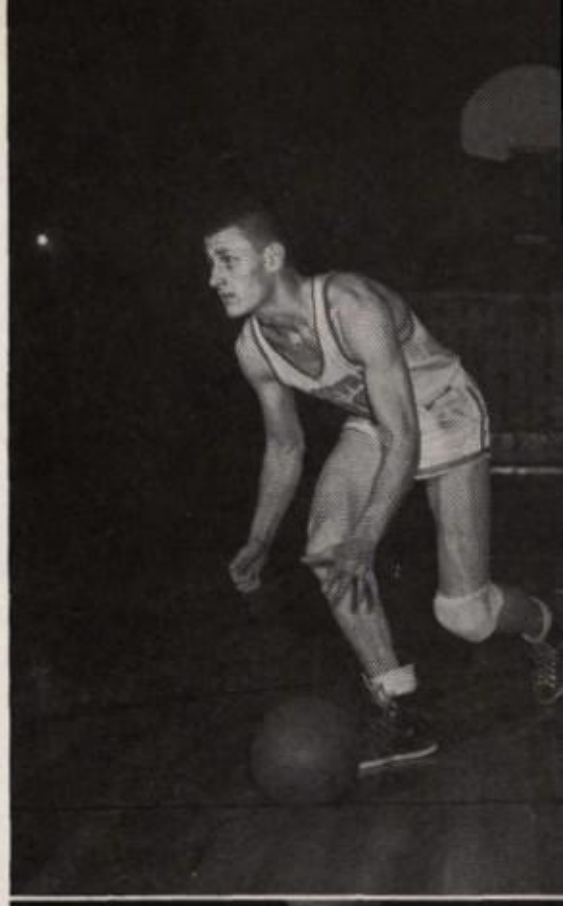
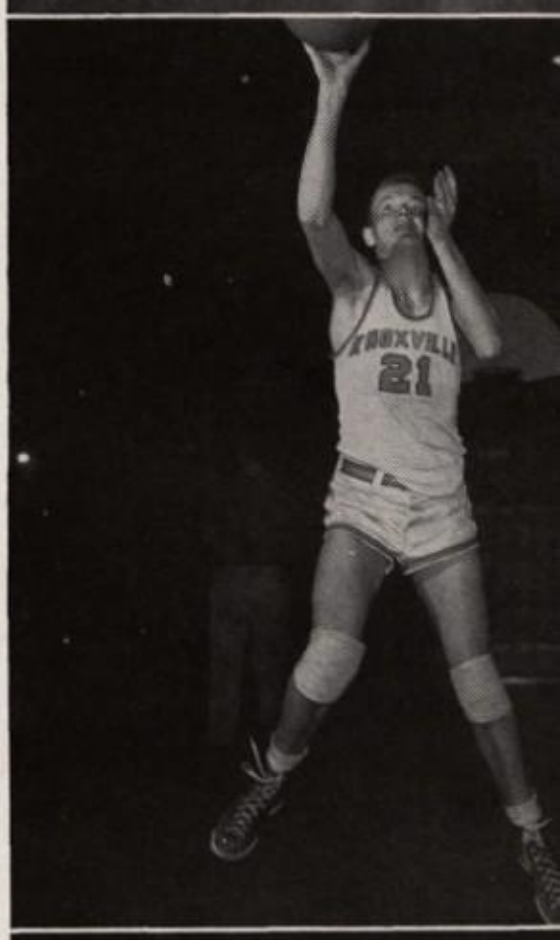
ROLLY EKLUND: Rolly, whose pet nickname is "Hot Rod," was the captain. He was the Bullets' one-handed set shooter. Rolly is also known to have a temper.

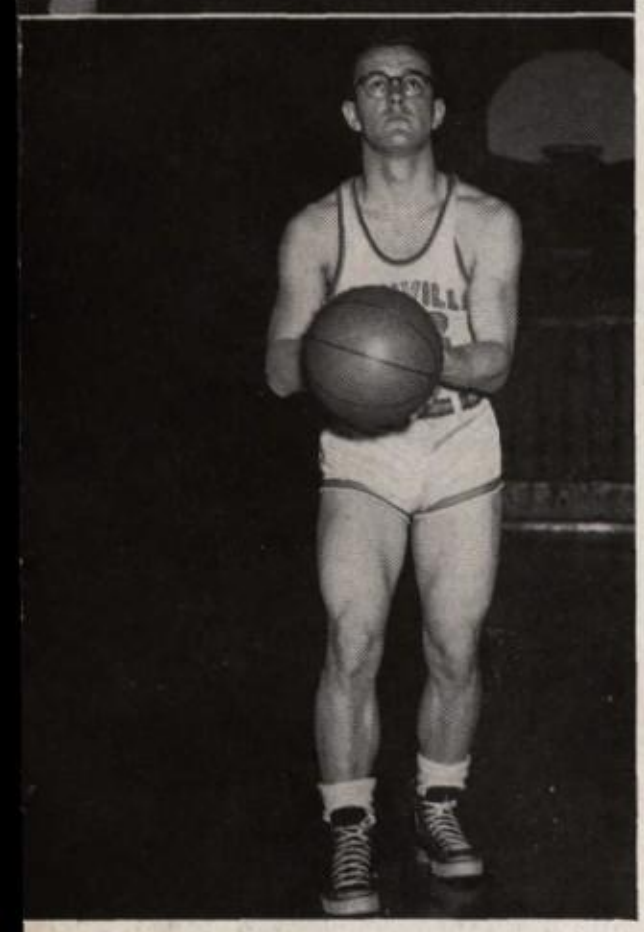


MICK LACY: Mick was strictly Knoxville's defensive man. He held down men plenty taller than his own 6′ 1″ height.

JOHN LISTON: John, nicknamed "Speedboat," is now a two-year letterman. He had a good shooting eye and was the high scorer in the state. He stands 6′ 2½″. John could hit from anywhere.

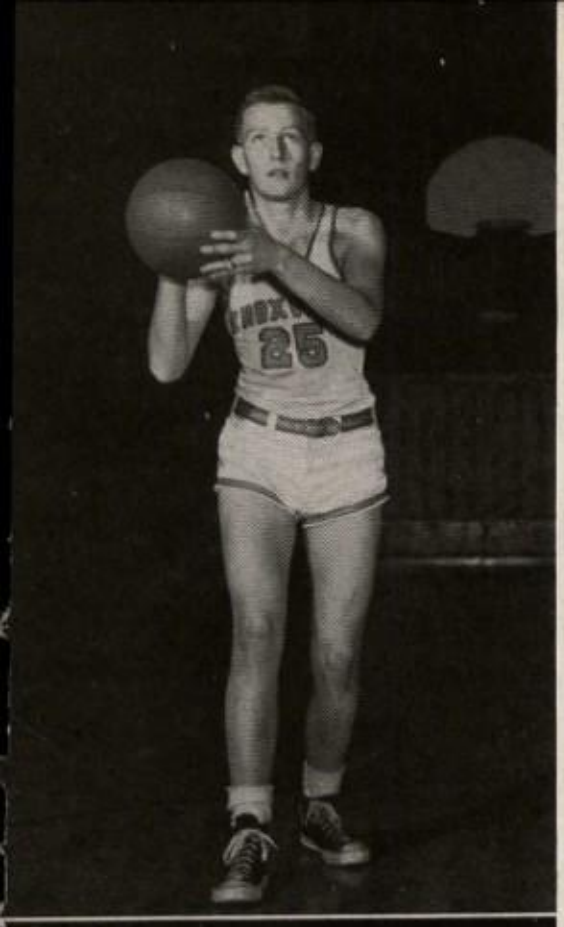


JAMIE BJORKMAN: Jamie played in the pivot position. He was a cool player and could grab many valuable rebounds. Jamie was a good shot in close and hit from the side on occasion.



BILL ROE: Bill was very fast and the key man in the Knoxville press defense. He was always in the opponent's hair. Bill was commonly known by his football nickname of "Scooter."

FRED JOHNSON: Fred was a great guy for jokes. The world just didn't turn right all the time to suit Fred. He was a good floor man and shot a few jump shots.



DON PONT: Don, the senior pivot, saw quite a bit of action. He showed great improvement over his junior year's playing.

TERRY WOOLDRIDGE: Terry was a senior forward who had a good shooting eye. Terry would laugh at anything.

JACK BLOCK: Jack was one of the boys of the bench gang who saw some action in a few games. Jack will be back next year.

JIM RAMP: Jim was an early season regular, but later was shifted to the second team where he played as a regular. Jim was good on rebounds and had shooting ability.

RICK JOHNSON: Rick was Heerde's two-minute man. He played his best those few fleeting minutes of the game. Rebounding and floor play are Rick's main attractions. (Not pictured)

Among these were seven returning lettermen: Bill Roe, 100 yd. dash, high hurdles, low hurdles; Mick Lacy, shot put, discus, broad jump; Fred Johnson, 100 yd. dash, quarter mile; Tom Walker, high hurdles, shot put, discus; Bill Eiker, shot put, 220 yd. dash; Jim Ramp, half mile.

Bill Roe, 5′ 8″ senior, was the capable captain of the 1952 squad. Last year Bill led the team in scoring with a total of 89 points for the 1951 season.

An interesting schedule was arranged, highlighted by the Knox County meet, which was held here at Knoxville Tuesday, May 6, and the Little Six Relay, which was held here Tuesday, May 13.

Last spring fifteen boys reported for baseball, and out of the fifteen there were nine letterwinners: Jamie Bjorkman, Jack Block, Rolly Eklund, Rick Johnson, Mick Lacy, John Liston, Ted Putnam, Bob Rader, and Terry Wooldridge.

The 1951 team consisted mostly of sophomores and juniors. These boys lacked experience and the ability to hit, but this spring's team is a great improvement over last year's. Ted Putnam was the only one graduating from last year's team.

Rick Johnson, Ted Putnam, and Robert Rader

took care of the outfield, and they did a fine job. Jamie Bjorkman, Jack Block, John Liston, and Terry Wooldridge took care of the infield. These boys were all sophomores and did well in spite of the little experience they had. Mick Lacy was the only letter-winning pitcher.

Pitching was the main weakness of last year's team, but the pitching staff now has a little game experience and has improved a lot.

In Appreciation

As a part of our program for raising money, the businessmen of Knoxville and vicinity were solicited at the beginning of the year. Each of them gave us a sum of money for advertising in our book and paper. We wish to thank them very much for their generosity:
